

SPRING 2012 SEMINAR SCHEDULE

DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

WEDNESDAYS 12 TO 1 PM

BOBBY CHAIN 106 (TEC)

Date	Title and Speaker
February 15	Unique and shared morphological responses of stream fishes to anthropogenic habitat alteration Dr. Nathan Franssen (Schaefer lab, USM)
February 29	Examination life history traits and genetics of wild Lepeophtherius salmonis populations of salmonids (Oncorhynchus spp.) of the North Pacific, USA Stephen Flanagan (Yee lab, USM)
March 7	Monitoring effects of the Deepwater Horizon oil spill on carbon fluxes in MS salt marshes Knox Flowers (David lab, USM)
March 21	The stopover biology of Ruby-throated Hummingbirds: applications of tracking technology T. J. Zenzal (Moore lab, USM)
March 28	Habitat associations of plethodontid salamander communities in the DeSoto National Forest Jen Lamb (Qualls lab, USM)
April 4	Interactions of mosquitoes and their protozoan prey (Proposal talk) Jeff Skiff (Yee lab, USM)
April 11	A pilot study on the effects of environmental enrichment with the amur leopard (Panthera pardus orientalis) in zoos Marks McWhorter (Qualls lab, USM)
April 18	Complex life cycles and mosquitoes (Proposal talk) Francis Ezeakacha (Yee lab, USM)
April 25	An update on activities at the Lake Thoreau Center Mike Davis (USM)